

Academic Institutions

Academic institutions and public entities are impacted by uncertainty and other challenges each and every day. Risk managers and business officers responsible for the operations of academic institutions have the challenging role of working to prevent financial exposure, while maintaining institutional safety and productivity, following disasters involving business-critical equipment, buildings, structures, data and networks.

AREPA's experts and technicians have over a quarter century's worth of experience providing equipment restoration services for college risk professionals, as well as the insurance carriers and legal professionals who serve them.

We are experienced managing restoration projects involving equipment such as:

- ▶ Medical/Pharmaceutical
- ▶ Data Centers
- ▶ Laboratory/Analytical
- ▶ Food Preparation
- ▶ Robotics/Scientific
